Truck and Car in Crash Here

Both Vehicles Come to Rest On Home Lawn

"You can't get away from it on or off duty," said State Highway Patrolman Max Brickles, after a big trailer-truck and an automobile collided "right under his eyes" about 6:45 P. M. Wednesday at the intersection of Market and Delaware streets. The car landed in the front yard of Patrolman Brickles' home. No one was injured in the crash. Brickles was off duty when the accident occurred and saw the whole thing happen through the window of his living room.

Thinking that someone surely would be seriously hurt in the collision, Brickles immediately telephone for an ambulance. He only phoned one, but within four minutes after the wreck, three ambulances had arrived on the scene. The Kirkpatrick Funeral Home ambulance was the first to get there—in a matter of seconds.

THE ACCIDENT occurred when the trailer-truck, driven by Pated west on Market Street, and a car driven by Mrs. Glenn Davis, Jr., 29, Good Hope, headed south on Delaware Street, collided when the car pulled into the main

Current Farm Income Dip Seen Bringing Marketing Changes

Price Problems

New Ag Chief

To Face Many

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4-(P)-Ezra Benson will find a new crop of farm price problems facing him when he comes to Washington next week for a pre-inaugural view of his job as secretary of agriculture in the new Eisenhower administra-

Benson, a former agricultural leader and now an apostle of the Mormon church, has notified outgoing Secretary Charles F. Brannan that he expects to come to Washington next week for a briefing on his Cabinet duties.

The current farm picture is such that officials believe it will lead him to speedily set up new programs designed to broaden markets for agricultural products at home and abroad. The secretary-designate will find that prices being received by farmers have dipped below the parity goal of federal farm programs for the first time since June, 1950. Furthermore, Benson will find that the government's investment in farm products under price support programs is growing steadily.

THIS INVESTMENT has reached a record of about $4.3 billion before start of the war in Korea. But demands growing out of defense spending permitted the department to unload all but about $11/2 billion worth of this by July of this year. Since then, however, the investment has been going up again. It now is above the $2 billion

Benson will also find that partment is running into trouble making good on its commitment to support corn, wheat, and peanuts at 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products.

Corn, for example, has been selling for an average of $1.45 a bushel, or 20 cents below the support. Furthermore, the department is being called upon for the first time in nearly 18 months to buy butter ot carry out a price guarantee to date, and wool is moving into of State Acheson, Assistant Secre- price support stocks in a large vol-

Dulles and lambs, Benson will find much also called on Secretary of Defense producer dissatisfaction with present prices. Beef cattle are down about 23 per cent from a year ago, sheep and lambs about 25 per cent and hogs about 15 per cent. Benson will discover also that net farm income (what's left after paying production costs) is going down and probably will continue to decline next year.

which many people think has been making this country "dance to the Russian tune."

Apparently the drifting national policy which has been followed for several years has not been conducive to either making friends or accomplishing anything except to increase our own uneasiness.

It is being reported that President-elect Eisenhower has been approaching this major policy cautiously and has been giving careful consideration to taking a different slant in seeking to make the Soviets behave.

There are many who contend that the only way to do this is to make the leaders of the Kremlin become fearful that they are getting out on a limb in their own domain which America can help saw off

There is argument that no better way can be found to do this than to follow the tactics of encouraging resistence among the people in satellite nations under Russian domination.

Red Russia tried that on the free world with only limited success except in the case of China. The free world was not buying the dictator line of goods. But the free world, led by the United States, has never really tried very hard to turn the tables on Russia.

Theoretically, this nation has the heavy advantage of holding out the hope to captive peoples that they may regain their freedom. They have nothing to lose but their chains. The Voice of America has never been able to get into the groove of such a crusade.

To this task the Eisenhower administration will bring new thinking and new

The World And Food

Admiral William S. Pve. USN, retired. discusses a topic which is bringing an uneasy feeling to many who keep in mind the future of the nation. What he had to say concerning over-population in every country in the world affects the United States, because millions of peoples elsewhere have been encouraged to look to this country for economic security.

The United States, with its magnificent resources and production capacity, has been serving as Mr. Bountiful for so many years it will be expected to continue in

At the same time, according to Admiral Pye, whose knowledge of world conditions was acquired during long service in the Navy, this country is not too secure in the matter of food. Population is increasing at the rate of 3,000,000 a year and the death rate is decreasing.

Two world wars and now the possibility of a third have drawn heavily upon the nation's wealth. Even water has become scarce in many areas. There are no undeveloped domains from which to increase food production. Certainly shipments of food abroad cannot be increased in the years ahead.

Hitler met the problem in Germany by killing off whole segments of the population. Russia is doing the same in China, as it did in Poland. A world facing starvation is not a pleasant picture, but Adpersonnel. No one can guarantee quick miral Pye warns that it could happen.

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

For many years it was thought that relief for arthritis was rare and difficult, if not impossible Many remedies were marketed and tried. Some seemed to give excellent results only to be followed by severe after effects.

Up to now, the best approach to the treatment of arthritis has been with the newer compounds known as cortisone and ACTH. However, it is now being shown that their relief of the pain, swelling and other arthritic symptoms is, as a rule, only temporary. Only too often the arthritis returns after these drugs have been stopped.

Two Main Types

There are two main types of arthritis, as many people know. One is called osteoarthritis, or degenerative arthritis; the other is rheumatoid or inflammatory in people past the age of fifty. Rheumatoid arthritis is more common in young people, but can occur at any age. The rheumatoid type causes swelling and tender ness of the joints, while in osteoarthritis there is usually no swelling, redness, or inflammation of the joints.

It can be taken by mouth, but does tend to cause some nausea and vomiting. People taking it should have very little salt, or sodium, in their diet, for sodium has a tendency to retain water in the body

Unpleasant reactions from this drug can be kept at a minimum if it is used under the direction of a physician. Of course, not everybody will be able to use it, and here again the patient must rely on his doctor's judgment.

Safe Driving Suggestions

Unusual Caution In Winter Urged

Common sense suggestions for safety in driving during the winter months ahead were offered today by S. O. Linzell, director of the Ohio Department of Highways. These suggestions include:

Go easy in starting. When moving from a parked or stopped position, put only slight pressure on the accelerator. Racing the engine will cause tires to spin on snow or ice and you'll get into a groove from which it may be hard to get

Keep brakes well adjusted. If brakes pull, they can throw you into a dangerous skid. Pump brakes to slow down or stop, as jamming them can lock the wheels and also throw your car into a skid.

Follow other vehicles at a safe distance. It takes 3 to 12 times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry concrete. When severe snow and ice conditions develop, chairs will cut stopping distance about in half and help prevent accidents and traffic tie-ups

Check lights and keep windshield clear. Poor visibility at this time of year makes it important to have headlights, tail-lights, windshield wiper blades and defrosters in perfect working order.

Take care of your battery. Have it checked at frequent intervals. Demands on it are heaviest in winter

"The long, dark weeks of winter demand that motorists always be alert for the actions of other drivers, always be watchful for pedestrians and always obey the traffic laws," State Highway Director Linzell declared, "Let's not blame avoidable accidents on the weather or on the roads when we know in advance that we must compensate for poor visibility and reduced traction by proper equipment and caution in our driving

Patrol officers have tapes in their cars to record, against the wail of sirens, descriptions of the breathtaking chases of speeders, drunks and reckless drivers. When the violator is caught, the microphone goes with the officer as he talks to the driver.

The portable recorder goes along, too, when officers investigate accidents in which people have been killed or injured. Descriptions of the scenes and conversations with the dazed and injured are recorded with an impact that shocks the listener into a deeper sense of responsibility the next time he sits behind the wheel of his car.

The nerve-wracked obbing of a man who arrived at an accident scene to find his young brother dead in the wreckage has been recorded and used on the program The pathetic sob were accompanied by a convincing safety warning from the patrolman at the scene: "This boy is dead because he was trying to learn to drive without a permit and a competent instructor.

The program has illustrated the many times attempts are made by violators to bribe patrolmen. One thick-tongued drunk, stopped by officers after driving recklessly and running a boulevard stop sign, told the patrolmen to take his money "Poison Zoomack" on the "Rootie and forget the whole thing

"What's that?" the patrolman asked. "Shhhhhh, not so loud! Somebody'll hear us!" WIVES OF DRIVERS stopped for violations add variety, like the one listeners heard ask the officers: "We didn't see you guys back there! Where was you hiding?"

Prison Inmates To Present Show At London Farm

Public Is Invited To Annual Event December 9, 10, 11, 12

Nearly every year a number of people from Fayette County go to the London prison farm to see the annual Christmas show staged by the inmates of that institution.

According to an announcement from G. E. Miller, assistant deputy warden, the show this year will be presented to the general public on December 9, 10, 11 and 12. The curtain will rise promptly at 8 P. M. at each of these presentations.

Prison officials say that these shows have been presented regularly since 1932 and they have been a great morale builder for inmates of the institution who take great pride in the performances. There is said to be some unusually good talent found in the cast.

Eighteen acts of entertainment will be offered. A cast of approximately eighty inmates under the skillful direction of Officer Charles B. Buehler, after months of rehearsal have produced a show which includes sparkling comedy, hilarious skits, roller skating, dancing, tum-

Can Alabama Senator Be Elected Again?

By S. D. ROCKWELL

(Central Press Association)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The sun may be setting on the political life of Alabama's junior senator, John J. Sparkman, who ran as his party's candidate for the vice presidency this year. At least this may be true if the Huntsville lawyer seeks elective public office in his home state again.

Senator Sparkman's term in the Senate expires in January, 1955. This means if he wishes to go back to the upper body of Congress, he must stand for re-election in 1954.

"Standing for re-election" in Alabama, in the past, has meant simply beating your opponents in the Democratic primary. #### Saigh Threatens To Ban Video PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 4 - (P)-President Fred Saigh of the St. Logis Cardinals said Thursday he believed the National League should ban television from all parks for 1953 and reiterated his threat to refuse clubs to telecast their home games with St. Louis unless the Cards received a share of the TV receipts.

"There is no question in my mind that television is hurting the attendance," declared the Redbird boss. "However, to satisfy the skeptics, I suggest we ban video for one year to determine once and for all whether it hurts or helps baseball."

The University of Mississippi won its first football victory in the state of Texas when they beat Houston this year, 6-0. It was the ninth try for Ole Miss since 1911.
